

Storytellers

An Inspirational Series

Storytelling is an integral part of history. Stories teach, they inspire, they motivate, they caution. Stories tell where you have been and where you are and where you hope to go in the future.

Preservation Massachusetts is excited to launch a new bi-monthly feature called Storytellers. Storytellers will share a local preservation story that can serve to educate and inspire others. It may be the tale of saving an historic church, of community outreach and constituency building or the bricks and mortar of an actual restoration project.

Preservation Massachusetts wants to share local individuals and group's successes, challenges and yes, even failures. Because there is always a silver lining and that lesson can help someone facing a similar issue.

Tell your story and through us, educate and empower fellow advocates all across Massachusetts and beyond!

To submit to Storytellers, fill out the form below and return it along with 3-5 images to Erin Kelly (ekelly@preservationmass.org) or mail to our office at 34 Main Street Extension, Suite 401, Plymouth MA 02360.

Note: PM will not publish a person's address, email or telephone number, this information is for our internal records only. We will only publish contact information if permission is specifically requested and granted. All submissions (text and images) to Storytellers become the property of Preservation Massachusetts for our use for Storytellers and other organizational promotion and publications. Contact takes full responsibility for the validity of all statements and information provided to Storytellers. Preservation Massachusetts retains the right to approve and/or deny any submissions.
